The town centre will run a free study-skills workshop on Saturday, 21 November, from 9.30 a.m. to noon. Participants will practise planning a short study session, choosing useful sources and checking their own progress. The workshop is designed for learners aged fourteen and above. Materials will be provided, but participants should bring a pen and drinking water. Places must be booked by Thursday, 19 November. Please contact the centre if you need step-free access or another adjustment; arrangements will be confirmed individually. A place is reserved only after a confirmation message has been sent. If you can no longer attend, please tell the centre so the place can be offered to someone else.
