1. Hi Ruwan,
I found a study-skills workshop that might help us prepare for our next term. It is at the town centre on Saturday, 21 November, from 9.30 in the morning until noon, and it is free for learners aged fourteen and above.
We could learn how to plan a short study session and choose useful sources. I also like the idea of checking our own progress instead of simply counting the hours we study.
We need to book by Thursday, 19 November, and our places will be reserved only after the centre sends a confirmation message. Materials are provided, but we should bring a pen and drinking water. If anyone needs an adjustment, the centre asks them to get in touch first.
Would you like to apply with me? Let me know soon.
Best wishes,
Anu
